

Read a medication reminder log accurately

Use fictional entries to distinguish a reminder, a personal report and a refill check.

01 Record uncertainty accurately in a sample log

In a fictional log, Sam remembers hearing a reminder but cannot remember whether the dose was taken. Which entry preserves what Sam actually knows?

- ▢ Taken
- ▢ Not sure

02 Label a refill reminder so it tells you what to check

Make up a reminder for a fictional prescription. Give it a clear administrative task without including anyone's medical details.

Write a fictional reminder label

03 Read a caregiver record without guessing

A shared entry says "reported at 8:15." What can a caregiver conclude from that entry alone?

- ▢ Someone independently witnessed a dose at 8:15
- ▢ A report was entered at 8:15

Worked answers
Open the free web guide
Scan or tap

iPhone app
View on the App Store
Scan or tap